Global recession bandwagon / Russia, Assad, Iran winning in Syria

Global recession bandwagon

Everyone seems to be getting on the bandwagon...not just bad news, but boring with it...as the Nikkei plunged by 5.4% yesterday...

As Chris Martenson closes in his link above, it is oil that will deliver the coup de grace for life as we have come to know it. Oil may still be dropping as the Iranians drop another 300,000bbls into the market, but the consequences will be dire when the price eventually starts rising on scarcity. That is when high or even hyper-inflation is likely to take over from deflation.

Folks are talking about the parlous state of British banks, but US banks are more highly exposed to derivatives! Also to the US Shale train wreck.

Russia, Assad, Iran winning in Syria

The Saudis and Turks decide that it is time for World War 3

<http://peakoil.com/publicpolicy/91427>

But is this statement of intent just a ploy to bring Assad to the negotiating table?

Madness seems to be contagious. But in supporting Turkey and KSA who are both supporting IS, Mr Obama is telling us he is against his own war on terror.

Ain't life strange.
