

Engineering a Global Crisis from Seasonal Flu

By Barbara McKenzie, 4 April 2020

With carefully planning, and a huge financial investment, Bill Gates has shut down the global economy and turned seasonal flu into a totally unjustified pandemic crisis. The purpose of the engineered crisis is to crash the system, increase authoritarianism and further the elites' goal of global government.

The COVID-19 beat-up

'The Emperor has no clothes' (Wolfgang Wodarg)

Subsequent to the pronouncement of what has been described as a new, lethal and highly infectious coronavirus, the world has been plunged into a state of panic. Enormous pressure has been put on governments to 'act' - citizens have been subjected to economically disastrous measures which have been imposed.

Protests by scientists that the danger is exaggerated are ignored by media and politicians, who are being misled by the government's measures. Anyone who suggests that a targeted measure to safeguard those at risk from corona or any virus is unnecessary is accused of being cynical and callous. The move to locking down the country and thereby causing enormous damage to the economy and to people's livelihoods is seen as a cynical and callous move.

Virologists, epidemiologists, pulmonologists and other scientists in relevant fields have from the outset criticised the test, the reliability of data, the level of danger presented by the virus, and the damage to the economy and to people's livelihoods. Measures, see, for example, 12 here and another 10 here. New evidence emerging as time goes on only confirms what has been said - that COVID-19 is no more than seasonal flu, not shown to be more dangerous than in other years. The figures for infection are a vast underestimate.

'All these measures are leading to self-destruction and collective suicide based on nothing but a spook' (Dr Wolfgang Wodarg, emeritus professor at Johannes Gutenberg University in Mainz)

The view of John Lee, emeritus professor of pathology, is that if we tracked any other seasonal virus in the world, we would see a significant increase.

- Much of the response to Covid-19 seems explained by the fact that we are watching this virus in a world where we have no idea what is going on.
- 'We have yet to see any statistical evidence for excess deaths, in any part of the world.'
- 'When drastic measures are introduced, they should be based on clear evidence. In the case of Covid-19, there is no clear evidence.'
- 'We have decided on policies of extraordinary magnitude without concrete evidence of excess harm and without the science used to justify them.'

Dr Wolfgang Wodarg, pulmonologist, has pointed out that the test protocol for coronavirus was fast-tracked through the regulatory process, the usual tests being run (it was given the stamp of approval in mid-January).

It seems that virologists contrived something sensational, which impressed the Chinese government. It became exceeding the virological frame. Face recognition installed everywhere, 'the clinical thermometer control

COVID-19 - a Bill Gates Project

David Rockefeller's environmentalism and 'climate change' narrative has the world believing that anthropogenic climate change this can only be diverted by huge sacrifice on the part of ordinary people. Rockefeller's project has now a Bill Gates, who has always held the medical portfolio of the Club of Rome.

The leadership role of Bill Gates in the coronavirus panic is unquestionable.

World Health Organisation

'having sold its soul to Gates and other business donors, the WHO no longer represents the interests of

The World Health Organisation fast-tracked the first COVID-19 test protocol, and since then has played it out for COVID-19. The Gates Foundation is the biggest private donor to the WHO and the second biggest funder after the WHO since the 1980s. Other major private 'partners' of WHO are the Rockefeller Foundation and pharmaceutical companies GlaxoSmithKline and Sanofi-Pasteur. WHO and Gates Foundation, along with UNICEF and the World Bank, are the main funders of GAVI.

Medical Research

The Gates Foundation funds a number of medical research institutes, all of which are actively promoting the COVID-19 narrative.

The German Center for Infection (DZIF)

The initial test protocol approved by the WHO was developed at the German Center for Infection Research in Berlin. The DZIF partners a number of governments and NGOs, foremost amongst them the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation's Antimicrobial Resistance Research and Development Hub, located in Berlin under the roof of the DZIF. The Rockefeller University in New York.

Imperial College London

'You are locked in your house right now because of some buffoon at Imperial College', Mark Windward

Epidemiological data which has influenced decision making in countries like the United Kingdom and New Zealand. Imperial College London. The College has claimed that deaths from COVID-19 could amount to over half a billion million deaths in the United States.

While Bill Gates has suggested that Imperial College reporting is if anything too optimistic, its projections are alarmist - one analysis finds that the College has exaggerated the risk by 131 times. Such criticism has no effect on measures on the back of Imperial College modelling.

The College is heavily funded by the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation: the total amount by 2018 has been £1.2 billion. The Foundation is the second biggest donor to Imperial College after the Wellcome Trust, whose donations amount to £1.1 billion.

works closely with the Gates Foundation in a number of endeavours, such as the founding of CEPI, whose Epidemic Preparedness Innovation's (CEPI's) mission is to stimulate and accelerate the development of vaccines and enable access to these vaccines for people during outbreaks.'

Others include the Institut Pasteur , likewise supporting corona alarmism. (This video investigates the impact of people desperately ill from coronavirus.)

Coincidences

Event 201

In Oct 2019, six weeks before the COVID-19 case, a Global Pandemic Exercise took place involving the WHO and other players including the US and Chinese CDC, which focused on a Coronavirus originating in pigs.

This was co-hosted by the Gates foundation, the World Economic Forum and John Hopkins University. Aspects of the exercise fabricated for this exercise are eerily similar to reports we are currently seeing with regard to the real pandemic, including simulation talks of the suppression of misinformation, through draconian measures such as shutting down

The 7th Military Games and the Virus Drill

The Chinese Government simulated a coronavirus outbreak in a drill on September 18th 2019, 30 days before the outbreak. The drill was held exactly 30 days before the key date of October 18th, 2019 – the same date when the Wuhan Military Games were held when Event 201 (Big Pharma, Bill Gates, China's CDC, America's CDC, etc.) was held in the USA which focused on how to handle a coronavirus epidemic. (Chinese Government Foreknowledge? See also report from Hubei

Given the role of China in these events, and in the COVID-19 outbreak itself, questions must be asked about 'managing' the epidemic. China has been accused of downplaying its mortality figures - it is possible that the government has the opportunity to crackdown on its citizens.

2015 Bill Gates predicts a deadly flu epidemic

In a TED talk of 2015, Bill Gates predicted that the next catastrophe was likely to be a highly infectious virus or biological missiles. Some would say informed guess, an attempt to prepare people for a genuine epidemic - others would say people were prepared and compliant when the designated epidemic was declared (as they have been).

The Rockefeller Foundation published a report in 2010 described a scenario in which a pandemic could be used to justify government control and authoritarian leadership (pdf).

Outcomes

'We don't want to squash a flea with a sledgehammer and bring the house down. (Simon Thornley, epiphany.com, Dominion Post 1 April 2020, speaking for himself at least.)

'The life expectancy of millions is being shortened. The horrifying impact on world economy threatens Sucharit Bhakdi)

Shutdown of the economy: The US has lost 10 million jobs in two weeks. International tourism is at a standstill from airlines to hotels to souvenir sellers. New Zealand's two biggest earners are tourism and the agricultural sector. The government has adopted the economically dubious strategy of replacing farming with forestry.

The personal cost: Lives will be wrecked due to the loss of jobs, and increased alcoholism and drug abuse is likely. The restrictions on activity will also impact on health - walking round the block is no substitute for playing sport. In New Zealand those shopping for food are forced to wait for long periods in the cold outdoors, a worrying number of elderly people.

Implications for the tax payer: The New Zealand government has announced a \$12 billion support plan package. Bailouts or buy-ins of the airline industry are expected. Bank bail-outs are expected.

Implications for the small business model: In the short term the impact will be greatest on small businesses. RT's Boombust (3 April) that, 'The companies that survive will be stronger and will take on staff. People will be working for businesses they were working for.' Whether the small business model will bounce back as economies recover remains to be seen.

The Markets: The New York Stock Exchange (NYSE) finished Monday 9 March with its worst loss since 2008, declining by more than 2,000 points. The collapse was spurred by an anticipated economic downturn caused by the virus and its associated quarantines, travel restrictions and decreased trade. Corona-scare apologists say that the crash was market, aggravated by strangely coincidental oil war. However it is hardly credible to claim that the crash had no effect on the market at all.

The Police State

With neither a bang nor barely a whimper, barely one week ago New Zealand put being a long established democracy on hold to become a virtual Police state in the ongoing fight against Covid-19 (Peter Dunne)
'Democracy On Hold

Measures taken have perforce impacted negatively on the rights and freedoms of citizens, in a way that could be unknown in democratic societies.

'We have settled into a life regime more restrictive than at any previous point in our history – including war.'

'We have no freedom of movement, limited access to essential goods and services, and our borders have been closed. We have to report our neighbours and report them if we believe they are breaking the rules, and to report businesses if we think they are breaking the rules.'

Police in New Zealand and abroad have been heavy-handed in the administration of their new duties to enforce social distancing. In New Zealand, people who go to deserted beaches in Wellington have been sent home by police. In England, the police are sending out officers to parks. People have been harassed for reading on park benches. One former British police officer called for more aggressive action against non-compliant citizens.

Both in UK and New Zealand there is uncertainty over the law, what the police are actually mandated to do.

'This is what a police state is like. It's a state in which the government can issue orders or express preferences and enforce ministers' wishes' (Lord Sumption).

Even those who agree that COVID-19 is exceptionally dangerous have expressed concern about the level of control.

'New Zealand – the “land of the long white cloud” – has evolved into a police state overnight amid the fear of the virus. I have been encouraged to do by fellow Kiwis who flout lockdown rules.' Darius Shahtahmasebi, 'New Zealand becoming a police state, but reporting neighbors & abuse of power goes too far'

Cui Bono

Financial Gain: Larger businesses - and especially the corporations - will ultimately benefit from both the crisis and the market.

The principle goal, however, is to further the aims of the globalists, e.g.:

Compulsory Vaccination: Bill Gates has called for vaccine certificates as a requirement for travel.

Digital ID: The Gates Foundation, the Rockefeller Foundation, GAVI, Microsoft, Accenture and Ideo-Org, an alliance, whose purpose is to introduce (by the end of 2020) a 'digital ID'. (Bill Gates is a strong proponent of digital vaccines, and for contraception.) Gates has just announced plans to launch human-implantable 'quantum-

More money to the (corporate-owned) UN: UN chief Antonio Guterres has asked for 10% of the world's GDP to fight the virus.

Calls for global government: Former British politicians Tony Blair and Gordon Brown, and of course Bill Clinton, call for a global government.

Normalising of totalitarianism: The declaration of a state of emergency and the speedy abandoning of civil liberties is remarkable easy, as Peter Dunne said, with neither a bang nor barely a whimper. The majority of citizens do not even think to question either the dangers or the draconian measures. If the populace is so compliant now, what will they do, fully restored, or object if lockdowns become common practice? Climate activist group and globalist too, have framed lockdowns as a suitable model to stop climate change.

Perhaps the most concerning, the cleverest, aspect of the epidemic scare is that it provides an excuse to shut down the corporate media is, of course, on side anyway, but parliaments have been prorogued, public meetings are being banned or tolerated. Anyone who tries to organise a public protest is likely to be detained.

With governments like that of New Zealand totally under the thumb of the United Nations (i.e. of the corporate world), the damage already inflicted on the world, Bill Gates' engineered crisis is a resounding success.
